Getting here

EagleWatch sits above the gorge at the top of the mountain. We will send precise driving directions, the gate details, and a parking plan for your guests as your date gets closer. Overnight space indoors holds up to 20 of your people; outdoor tent camping is effectively unlimited, and we are happy to share a list of nearby places we love for everyone else.

Your people

The three you will be working with most:

- Jen, your host. She holds the whole vision and shapes the day around you.
- Mel, photography and the details. If you added a session, she will be in touch to plan it.
- David, food and the pit. If catering is on your package, he will reach out about the menu.

What’s next

- We will reach out to schedule your walk-through and start shaping the timeline.
- Your balance of $5,812 is due 30 days before your date.
- Start a running list of must-have photos, songs, and any dietary needs, we will fold it all in.
- Questions, any time: just reply to this email.

EagleWatch, five private acres, above the gorge. We cannot wait to host you.
